

Dr. Sabine Kilgus
Commissioner since 1 January 2008

Sabine Kilgus (1958) graduated with a PhD in law from the University of Zurich, Switzerland. She completed her academic studies at University of Pennsylvania, Law School, Philadelphia, where she graduated as an LL.M. In 1996 she stayed for several months with New York University, Stern School of Business, Salomon Center for Finance as Visiting Scholar. In 2006 after termination of the so-called habilitation proceedings in the subject of financial markets regulation, she has been granted the title of Private Lecturer (Privatdozentin) of the University of Zurich in the fields of private and commercial law, in particular financial markets law.

Sabine Kilgus worked as a clerk with the District Court of Zurich. She was admitted to the Zurich bar in 1990. From 1990 until 2004 she worked with a leading international law firm in Zurich. Today she works with the law firm Lutz Rechtsanwälte in Zurich. In addition, Sabine Kilgus is lecturer at the Universities of Zurich and St. Gall as well as at the Swiss Finance Institute, the former Swiss Banking School, in the past also at the Zurich University of Applied Sciences. Her topics are financial markets law as well as contracts and commercial law, where she also published several articles.

Mandates:

- She is judge in arbitration proceedings of a self-regulatory organization (Polyreg) established to prevent money laundering and terrorism financing.