

Alexandra Karg

Member of the Executive Board
Head of Operations division

Alexandra Karg (1971) studied international business administration at the University of Northumbria, UK. She also completed a degree in sport and nutrition science.

From 1998, Alexandra Karg initially worked as a senior project manager for WestLB in Düsseldorf, where she also acted as executive director and global head of market data management and eTrading between 2003 and 2009. At SIX Financial Information in Zurich she acted as head of Data Operations from 2009 to 2011, assuming responsibility for 270 employees at ten locations worldwide, and was also a member of its management board. During her time at the Stuttgart Stock Exchange, she was managing director of Information Products. As of 1 October 2016, Alexandra Karg became head of the Operations division at FINMA and is also a member of its Executive Board.